Submission: I would like to protest the proposal to change the City of Sydney's boundaries to create a 'mega-council' including Botany Bay, Randwick, etc.

I and my family are happy with the size of the City of Sydney council at present and strongly feel that the council represents our unique needs as small urban family. The City of Sydney is very densely populated and I don't believe that a 'mega-council' would be able to meet the particular needs of the large, diverse, urban population
