

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Thursday, 28 February 2019

Submission: The SRV is unfair for the average homeowner. We purchased our property last year and had to really struggle to get funds together to make it happen. I am a skilled trades person earning an average wage of around $80,000 a year, and we currently live week to week to pay our household bills, keep our vehicles on the road, and feed my family including two young children and my wife. I really feel we will be in financial stress after a couple of years of this rise and it's really going to put the pressure on our family financially.