Submission: I am strongly against the rate rise. They need to learn how to budget and spend their already large income wisely. Countless time they have wasted money, the lastest was the stupid blue string horse that nobody wants to see let alone bring money into scone as they claim. They could have done a lot of good in our community but no, just stupidity. When is enough enough, when do we cut off the spoilt little brat that dosnt work for it or help out the community just blows it on stupid, selfish things for ones own pleasure then puts their hand out for more.
