It's utterly unfair that existing Sydney residents are being forced to pay for unpopular policies we nobody asked for. Why do existing residents have to foot the bill for Labor's unpopular mass immigration policy? It's pushing young people out of the housing market and putting strain on services like water, healthcare and transport infrastructure. Sydney Water are must not move ahead with this during a cost of living crisis! The government are detestable and entirely accountable for manufacturing this cost of living crisis through absurd and unsustainable levels of immigration that none of our public services can keep up with.
