Submission: I live in the Leichhardt Municipality and have done so intermittently for nearly 30 years. One of the main attractions of this area is its "community feeling". The Leichhardt Municipality has a sense of inner city life and a multicultural flavour supported by open ideology and culture. It has a special mix of old character and contemporary development with minimal high rise, which results in an interesting, friendly and vibrant municipality. We are well serviced and feel we get great value for our rates. Please let us retain our community.
