I dont see any reason why water prices should go up. Inflation is not affecting the supply of water nor is it affecting the demand for it. On what basis is Sydney water aiming to raise the pricing by 18% next year and 7% for every year then off? In other words, my water bill will go up by 25% in two years! My wage is not going up by that amount nor is the affordability of my entire household. I vehemently reject this pricing upgrade by Sydney Water.
