Given that the State and Federal Governments have provided Sydney Water with $60 Billion funding to upgrade their infrastructure to meet the increasing population growth and demand, I am concerned about the justification for Sydney Water to increase fees when substantial government funding has already been allocated. I question the transparency of Sydney Water regarding the utilization of these funds and the evidence of the resulting infrastructure improvements. As IPART is the regulator, I urge the organization to exercise its oversight role and ensure transparency in the decision-making process. I request that IPART provide clear evidence and justification for any proposed fee increases. I strongly object to any increase in fees by Sydney Water and urge the regulator to carefully consider the impact on the community.
