Subject: Hello,

I am writing to express my concern at the proposed amalgamation of Sydney City Council with the other councils in the eastern suburbs. I feel that, having lived here at Potts Point for 33 years, that this is not appropriate for the city centre and Potts Point to become part of a mega council. As it is, the Sydney City Council area already has a population of 200,000 and we are big enough and self-sufficient without a merger which could alter or downgrade the good things and services that we already have here. I am strongly opposed to this proposed merger.

Yours sincerely,
John Cochrane
