Care payments are inadequate to ensure children are able to access all services needed to heal from trauma and develop skills for a positive future. I use a lot of my own money to fund opportunities for the children in my care. Including elite sports. Transport to family access. Tutoring and counseling or respite. My children need support til adult. The move to 21 is ok but the amount is insufficient to really assist transition to independent adulthood. I work as a child and family practitioner. Many of my clients are raised in oohc. The support was not enough to overcome adversity
