I hope this survey find you well. At this stage, entire Australia is struggling with tye ever going up cost of living. You could encourage ppl to use less water, which we are already put in one hundred percent of our efforts. Increasing cost of water will not help with building or upgrading the infrastructure. This should be government job, not putting pressure on us who are struggling to put food on table. What happen if we cant afford to pay the bill ? Should we all line up to centrelink for assistance?
