

Author name: P. Macken

Date of submission: Tuesday, 5 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

Sydney water have not earned the right to increase prices. They have failed to promote ration steps to increase supply such as the construction of more dams. They have also failed to use developing technology to mitigate water loss from the system. Until they demonstrate a proactive approach to the supply side of the equation prices should be kept where they are!