SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

I would like to make the following submission to IPART:

I am a home owner with rooftop solar panels. I made a significant investment to install the panels. I believe I am generating useful and valuable resource which, when surplus electricity is put into the grid, should be priced fairly in line with the wholesale price for electricity. Clearly as an individual I do not have the influence to demand a fair price from my power supplier. That's why we need a fair price regulated across the state. We are hearing more and more that Australia is facing an energy crisis, with potential for black outs at peak periods of usage. That's exactly why rooftop solar should be recognised as a valuable commodity which not only helps the environment but also is making an important contribution to Australia's energy generation. Yours sincerely,
