Submission: I am writing to protest against the current move to yet again reduce the price paid by householders for the renewable energy generated by our solar panels. It is difficult to understand how they can pay as little as 11c and at the same time charge customers up to 30c. We have tried to combat global warming (and save on our electricity bills) but are treated with contempt. Enough, stop pandering to the coal industry, and do the right thing by the planet - pay a fair price for renewable energy.
