Submission: There aren't many untouched beaches left and the beach at Catherine hill bay is one of them. To visit there you would see that it is a beach that seems like no human has been there - that is it's beauty. Locals and the people go there take extra care to keep it like this. The inlet is where my young kids like to play. I was horrified at hearing what was going to happen. Would you want your kids playing in poo water. To say that the water is clean besides drinking and bathing is a joke. Please re consider destroying one of the most untouched natural spots left. I'm sure that there is other options available - I'm sure that the people that will be living in the estate wouldn't want their beach that they lovingly paid to live near, be covered in their poo. I'm just a no one I don't have any people power or political pull- My family and I just love where we live and love our surroundings this is our favourite beach. Please don't destroy it.
