Hi,

I'm not sure where you get your statistics from for the average wage earner.... but you have the wrong information.

Maybe you are collecting your information from a very small percentage, but this does not represent the true information.

If we were earning figures like this, we can afford the petrol & the car parking.

You are killing the average working class - but that is probably what you want.

This shouldn't be allowed to happen.

Transport is one of the fundamental items that is required to establish a lifestyle which is used mainly to get to work & should be accessible to everyone!

Please reconsider.

Thank you.
